

WANT TO JOIN THE COOLEST ROBOTICS COMPANY? OPERATIONS MANAGER WANTED!

Are you experienced with supply chain, warehouse management, logistics and financial administration and do you want to apply your skills in a high-tech company? It will be your responsibility to take over the daily operations, assuring that Turf Tank is able to deliver in accordance with customer obligations. You will be a key figure in the organisation, working closely together with both Sales, Support, Production and Finance

The world's first autonomous line marking robot #coolestrobotever

Turf Tank is the company behind the world's first autonomous line marking robot for sports fields, the Turf Tank One. Over the past years, we have seen strong growth across the globe. The combination of our unique technology and working closely together as a high performing team, is the key to our current success and plan for future growth. At Turf Tank, you will get to play a central role in our team of 40 people, while building an amazing career for yourself. Our corporate culture is very entrepreneurial and fun. We focus on implementing world class tools, systems and practices, in order to realize our growth ambition.

- Location: Hjoerring, Denmark
- Remuneration: Based on qualifications
- Send application to jobdk@turftank.com, mark your mail "Operations Manager" in subject field.

Responsibilities:

- Supply chain and logistics
- Sourcing and cost control
- Quality control
- Invoicing, ERP-system and inventory management
- Shipping and packing
- Daily contact with suppliers
- Customer support and feedback to development team
- Develop and execute on plan for aftermarket
- Deliver on KPI's for aftersales, sourcing and production
- Work closely together with our in house development team
- Overall in charge for inventory in DK and USA

Candidate profile:

- 2-4 years of experience in the field
- Prioritizing, time management and organizational skills
- Ability to deliver on ad-hoc tasks and KPI's
- Tech savvy, familiar with MS office and online communication (e.g: Google Meet & Zoom)
- Familiar with ERP-systems (e.g.: Rackbeat)
- Proficiency in English, and any of the following languages will be considered an advantage: Dutch, German, French, Spanish, Italian, Chinese
- Passion for the sports industry is a plus
- A real team player, with full dedication to build our fast-growing robotics company

What we offer:

A challenging experience where you will manage your own projects and responsibilities from day one. You will get the chance to improve your skills and grow together with our team, while working with some of the most amazing sport facilities and clubs in the world. Lots of fun and competitive salary